

Gallant Completes Barnes & Noble Bookseller in Geneva, Illinois (and even helped stock the shelves!)

MARENGO, ILLINOIS, October 2002 -

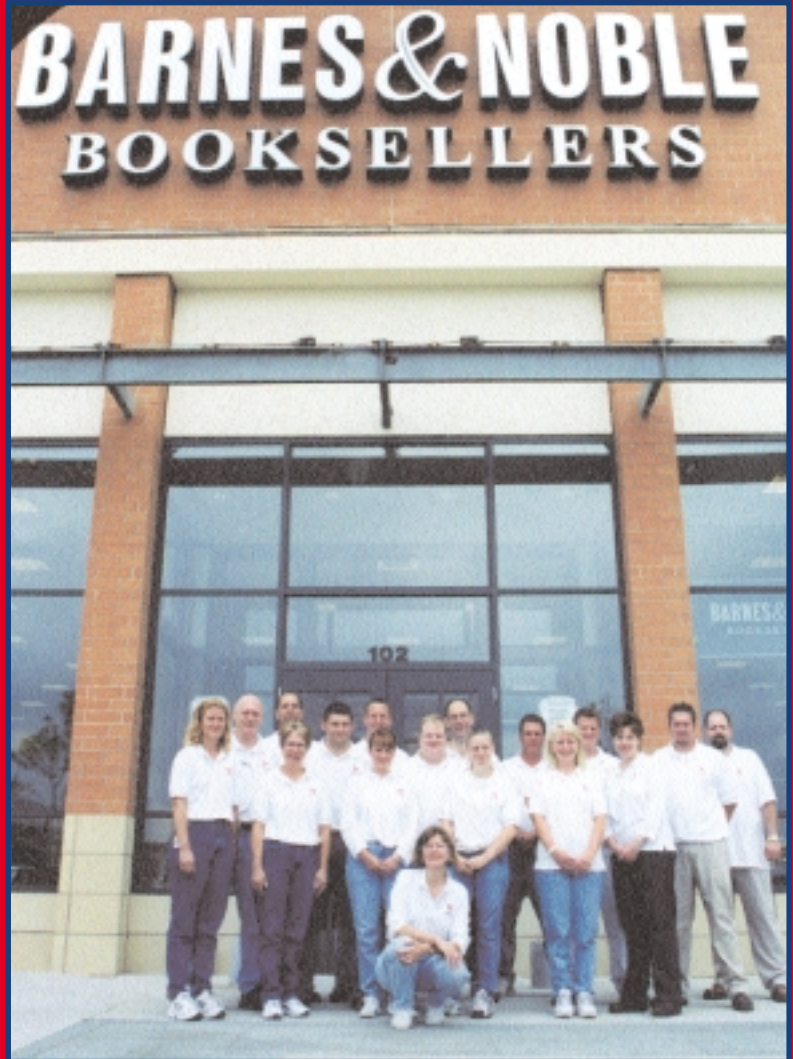

Kevin Krak, President of The Gallant Companies announced the on time completion of their 34th Barnes & Noble Booksellers store in Geneva, IL.

The 25,000 square foot facility located on Randall Road is part of the new Geneva Commons Lifestyle Center developed by Jeffery Andersen Real Estate headquartered in Cincinnati, OH. Gallant's Construction Services Group was awarded the interior build out of the space by Barnes & Noble and was selected because of their consistent track record and their solid understanding the retail construction environment. Additionally, Gallant's team assisted Andersen Real Estate by completing the interior work for the site's management office as well as other projects related to the overall complex.

Prior to the opening of the store, Gallant's team took its commitment to Barnes & Noble's success one step further. Over twenty Gallant field and corporate office staff showed up on the first day of merchandising and assisted store management with unloading and stocking of the first book deliveries. Kevin Krak, President of Gallant said, "We are committed to our clients success in all areas of their business and had a great time working as part of their store team."

The Gallant Companies provide construction and facilities maintenance services to retail, commercial and light industrial clients nationwide. Gallant's experience provides them with key knowledge of construction and maintenance markets, allowing them to provide responsive, cost effective to their clients wherever they may be and what ever their needs may require.

GALLANT
Building Solutions Nationwide